Americanism Elementary School Poster Contest

Applicant Form

The National Society SAR Americanism Elementary School Poster Contest was developed to help stimulate interest in and aid the study of American History in the 3rd, 4th, or 5th grade curriculum (whichever year the subject is taught). The word “student” is used here to describe the applicant entering the contest. In 2012, the contest was expanded to include Cub Scouts, Brownies, Children of the American Revolution members, and other youth organizations recognized by the SAR Americanism Committee in addition to public, private, parochial, and home schools.

Participants from other organization must be of equivalent age for 3rd, 4th, or 5th grades, whichever year that American History is taught in the specific school district. If American History is taught in lower grades at selected schools, an entry may be accepted for the competition at the discretion of the SAR Americanism Committee. All entries will be judged on an equal basis regardless of point of origin. The theme for the Poster Contest rotates annually based upon whether the school year ends in an even or odd number.

For academic years ending in even numbers, the theme shall be “Revolutionary War Events.”

For academic years ending in odd numbers, the theme shall be “Revolutionary War Persons.”

The National Americanism Committee highly suggests that each SAR state-level society choose a specific topic within the confines of each above stated topic for ease of judging on the chapter and state levels.

Rules and Guidelines:

- A completed entry form must be emailed to the SAR Americanism Committee Chairman with a copy to the SAR Education Director no later than June 1.
- All posters must be two dimensional. No three dimensional entries will be allowed or accepted.
- Posters may be submitted either on traditional poster board or thicker display board. The maximum size of the poster board is 24” x 36”.
- Computer aided graphics designed material may be used on the posters. However, this material must be of original design. No commercially-produced or printed material such as clip art will be allowed. Use of trademarked or copyrighted material will be grounds for disqualification.
- Each local school winner will compete at the chapter level. Each chapter winner will compete on the state society level. Each society winner will compete on the national level.
- Only one entry from each state-level society will be accepted.
- Judging will be conducted by the members of the SAR Americanism Committee present at the annual Congress who are in attendance at the committee meeting.
- All posters will be judged by the following criteria:
 - Does the poster express the annual theme?
 - Does the poster show originality by the student?
 - Does the poster show evidence of research?
 - Does the poster show artistic merit and creativity?
 - Does the poster accurately reflect the historical event?
 - Is the poster neat and visually pleasing?
- Chapters and societies may present cash and other awards on their respective levels. The SAR will not reimburse a local chapter or society for any expenses incurred in awarding prizes or conducting a contest.
- National contest winners will be announced at the annual Youth Awards Luncheon during Congress. The awards will be presented to a representative of the sponsoring state-level society for later presentation to the winning student.
- All posters will be displayed at the annual Congress following the judging. The top three winning posters will be displayed at the SAR National Headquarters for one year following the annual Congress. All other posters must be picked up by a state society representative before the conclusion of the Congress. The three winning posters will be returned to the respective state-level societies at the conclusion of the year.

Dr. Tom & Betty Lawrence American History Teacher Award

Applicant Form

The National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) invites all American history teachers, whose approved curriculum teaches students about the Revolutionary War era from 1750 to 1800, to apply for the Dr. Tom & Betty Lawrence American History Teacher Award. The award is open to all teachers at the middle or high school levels at a recognized public, private, or parochial institution. While the preliminary rounds of the award program begin at the local level, teachers may eventually advance to the state or national levels, eventually held in June during the annual SAR Congress.

The American History Teacher Award recognizes educators who distinguish themselves in the addressing the history of the American Revolution. The award winner will receive a professional educational opportunity at a national seminar and bring back to their classroom and students a heightened level of creativity and enthusiasm for the American Revolutionary era.

Teacher candidates interested in entering the local SAR Chapter contest must complete the required application and submit a written essay of not less than 500 words discussing the importance of teaching the American Revolutionary era. The essay may also describe any extraordinary teaching techniques or innovative projects utilized by the teacher to teach the American Revolution. The contest is aimed at identifying a teacher who is still actively teaching and who is in the early stages of his or her career, therefore having many years of productive classroom teaching remaining. It is recognized that school districts may have different job titles for teachers of American history, such as Social Studies teachers. The actual job title of the teacher is not important as long as the teacher has as their primary duty the teaching of American History. Teachers who teach music, JROTC, or other subjects as their primary subject are not eligible. The essay should also discuss why the teacher wants to attend the educational seminar and how the teacher would use what is learned at the seminar in the future.

Two signed letters of recommendation, one from the Supervisor and one from the Principal whose signature endorsing the applicant appears on the application, should also be among the application materials. These letters need to state why the applicant is an outstanding teacher of American history. In addition to the application and written essay, SAR requests the applicant submit a one-page biography highlighting their educational background and achievements. All application materials must be typed or printed on 8½" x 11" standard paper and submitted through the mail. No handwritten or copied material will be accepted. All original materials will remain the property of SAR.

The award is specifically for graduate programs in the American Revolution and not redeemable for its monetary value. If the award winner is unable to attend an educational seminar during the year the award is presented then the winner may attend in a subsequent year. The winner must attend a seminar within thirty six months after the award is announced or the award will be forfeited.

Completed applications shall be submitted to the local SAR chapter no later than December 15 of each year. Please confirm this date with the SAR Chapter Chairman of the American History Teacher Award, as the local chapter may adjust their deadline yearly.

All American History Teacher Award applicants must complete and include the following information and attach it with this form:

1.) An essay of a minimum of 500 words discussing the importance of teaching the American Revolution, and providing details of any extraordinary teaching techniques or innovative projects utilized to teach the American Revolution. The essay should also discuss why the applicant wants to attend the Freedoms Foundation, Colonial Williamsburg, Jefferson Seminar, or the SAR annual conference and how the teacher would use what is learned at this summer workshop in future classes.

2.) Curriculum vitae highlighting the applicant's educational and professional background. This should include any education related awards or recognition received. The applicant may also include any community or other organizations in which he and she is involved and any awards or recognition received from those organizations. This should be limited to activities in which the applicant has participated since he or she began his or her professional career.

3.) Include signed letters of recommendation from the applicant's supervisor and principal stating why the applicant is qualified for this award.

It is understood that if SAR extends an invitation to the winner to attend that the winners travel and lodging expenses will be paid by SAR.

2.) The brochures must conform to the yearly theme.

3.) The brochures must be made from a single 8½” x 11” piece of blank printer paper. The paper should be folded according to the instructions provided for the contest. The content of the various panels of the brochure should align with the instructions provided below.

4.) The thickness of paper in the U.S. is commonly expressed on the package of paper as the “weight.” For the purposes of the contest, choose 8½” x 11” paper with a weight of 32 lbs. or less. Please note that construction paper is usually too thick (over 32 lbs.), but it may be used providing the applicant’s brochure can be tri-folded. White paper is most common, but pastel or colored paper is acceptable.

5.) All brochure artwork should be hand drawn. Do not paste clipart or pictures from magazines, books, or Internet resources onto the brochure. Tracing is permissible and simple drawings that represent complex concepts are encouraged for those applicants who may doubt their artistic skills. Ideas are the most important element in these brochures and the art is merely a means of conveying those ideas. The Middle School Brochure Contest judging criteria rates highest the applicant’s hand drawn artwork and authored text as opposed to artwork cut and pasted from books, magazines, and Internet resources.

6.) Pasting of hand drawn artwork onto a master page is permitted. Lighter paper weights (i.e. 20 to 24 lbs.) are recommended for items to be pasted onto a master page.

7.) The written text is commonly hand printed. Typed text sections (even those pasted on) are also permitted. Use caution though, as this must be original text written by the student, not clipped from magazines, books, or Internet resources.

8.) Please refer to paragraph 12 below or listed details under the SAR Brochure Panels Explained section found online via the SAR website at <https://sar.org/education/youth-contests-awards/sgt-moses-adams-memorial-middle-school-brochure-contest>. Make special note that the applicant’s name and school on the back panel of the brochure is covered by a 3” x 3” Post-It® note throughout all judging at the chapter, state-level society, and national levels.

9.) Brochure entries may be disqualified for any of these reasons:

a.) The applicant did not adhere to the annual theme.

b.) The brochure is not 8½” x 11” in size.

c.) The brochure is not a tri-folded brochure or cannot be folded accordingly.

The SAR will also conceal the applicant's personal information described above throughout the judging process using a 3" x 3" Post-It® note.

Sons of the American Revolution

ROTC & JROTC Recognition Program

Applicant Form

The SAR awards the ROTC Medal to foster the principle of the "citizen-soldier", exemplified by the Minutemen of Revolutionary War days. This award is presented by an SAR chapter, state-level society, or the national society to ROTC or JROTC cadets who are selected for having a high degree of merit with respect to leadership qualities, military bearing, and general excellence. The recipients are selected by the Commanding Officer of the ROTC or JROTC unit, who should be given full latitude in making the selection.

SAR members and direct descendants of those patriots that achieved the independence of the American people and the objectives of the organization are intended to perpetuate a more profound reverence for the principles of the government founded by our forefathers. Such were the ideals of Captain Alden Partridge, who is considered the founder of the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) program in the United States. Partridge founded the ROTC because his father, Samuel Partridge, a soldier of the Revolution, had concern for the newly founded United States and its lacking a development resource for qualified military officers. SAR supports all programs that encourage historical research, foster true patriotism, and maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom. It strongly supports the United States ROTC/JROTC as exemplary programs of these ideals.

For ROTC or JROTC units with fewer than 500 cadets or midshipmen, one ROTC or JROTC Recognition medal will be awarded each year. For larger units, one medal may be presented for each 500 students enrolled in the unit. In cases where a school has more than one ROTC or JROTC unit, each unit is counted separately. The Silver ROTC Medal is presented only to students in a college or university ROTC unit and no recipient may receive it more than once. The Bronze JROTC Medal was authorized in 1965, and is presented only to students in secondary school JROTC and no recipient may receive it more than once. As of June 15, 1998, the U.S. Navy Sea Cadet Corps (NSCC) is no longer eligible to receive the SAR JROTC Bronze Medal. Instead, the NSCC should be supported by recognizing the outstanding NSCC cadet with the SAR Bronze Good Citizenship Medal.

The winner of each state-level society competition will be entered into the National JROTC Recognition program. The winner of the national program will then receive a special award at the annual SAR Congress. The national-level SAR award is to be presented to the outstanding cadet in his or her next to last year of JROTC (a third-year cadet in a four year program). For a three year JROTC program, a second-year cadet may be selected. Whenever possible, presentation will be made by an SAR member at the ROTC unit's Spring Awards program.

All state-level society contests must be completed and the national contest entry packet must be forwarded to the SAR Education Director no later than May 1. As soon as the winning outstanding cadet in the nation is selected, the SAR chapter sponsoring that cadet will be contacted so that the chapter can coordinate the cadet's travel to the annual SAR Congress.

The winning cadet at the society level will be flown to the SAR Congress to attend, receive his or her award, and be recognized by the SAR. The award will be the National JROTC Medallion and a cash award of $2,000.

An additional amount of expense funds, not to exceed $1,000, will be provided to pay for the combined travel, hotel, and meals for both the cadet and his or her chaperone. Expenses in excess of the $1,000 amount will be the responsibility of the cadet. It is suggested that additional assistance might be made available from the sponsoring SAR chapter or society, but is not mandatory. The travel expenses related to the respective state-level conventions will be at the discretion of the respective state-level societies.

The enhanced JROTC program has several objectives:

- 1.) To identify and recognize outstanding JROTC cadets at the chapter, society, and national levels. The program has been designed to allow all candidates to be evaluated equally, regardless of the military service they represent.
- 2.) To encourage SAR members to make a personal presentation of the JROTC medal to the outstanding JROTC student in the nation.

3.) To encourage SAR chapters to work with JROTC units to determine how best to encourage and recognize these outstanding student citizens and therefore support this exceptional national youth program. Each cadet chosen to win the award at the JROTC unit level will receive the SAR JROTC Bronze Medal.

Levels of ROTC and JROTC Recognition Awards

If there is an SAR chapter contest with more than one unit participating in the chapter's area, the outstanding cadet of the SAR chapter may receive a bronze medallion on a neck ribbon and a ribbon bar with a gold frame and a bronze star to wear on the ribbon bar. The local chapter may also provide a nominal monetary award. If only one unit enters the contest, that entry must go through the chapter for approval in order to advance to the State level contest.

The outstanding cadet winning at the SAR state-level society may receive a silver medallion on a neck ribbon, a gold frame for the ribbon bar and a silver star for the ribbon bar. The society may also provide a monetary award.

The outstanding cadet winning at the national level will receive a gold medallion on a neck ribbon, a gold frame for the ribbon bar, and a gold star to wear on the ribbon bar. As stated above, the National SAR will provide a cash award of $2,000 and up to $1,000 in travel expense funds to the program winner. The second place national award recipient will receive a cash award of $1,000 from the SAR. The third place national award recipient will receive a cash award of $500 from the SAR. For further information and program details within the applicant's local area, please refer to the state-level society contact information found online via the SAR website <https://sar.org/education/youth-contests-awards/rotc-jrotc-recognition-program>.

Selection criteria are primarily left up to the Senior Military Instructor and should include merit in patriotism, leadership, military bearing, scholarship, and general excellence. The Senior Military Instructor should be given full latitude in making the selection of cadet applicants. This application with all required attachments should be completed by the Senior Military Instructor and forwarded to the local SAR contact for each nominated cadet applicant. For the state-level society contest, each cadet must submit an original essay on the topic "How ROTC has prepared me to be a better citizen of the United States." The essay may be composed on a computer, typewriter, or by hand in black ink. The applicant's essay will also be used in the national-level contest. If there is a chapter contest, SAR chapters may also require copies of the applicant's essay. Applicants may use additional pages as required to reply to the following prompts, with the applicant's name listed at the top of those pages.
